Dedication

We the Graduating Class of "51," pause now at the turning point of our lives to honor a person who has shown us the true value of warm friendliness and understanding.

For twenty-five years, Mrs. Underwood has watched scores of students pass through the cafeteria doors and to each of these she always had time for a few words or a friendly smile.

To Mrs. Underwood who will always remain in our minds, we dedicate this edition of Hilltop Echoes.

Class History

On a beautiful day in September of 1939 thirty young and overly anxious students climbed up the hill to Lodi High School to their first days in the halls of knowledge. Although there were thirty of us only eleven of us are left: Don Cash, Jim Crum, Doris Ginter, Gordon Hartzell, Anita Indoe, Windy Kline, Sara Lawton, Gus Mathys, June Stanley, Bernard Whitmore, and Frank Rice. Miss Delong was our teacher.

After passing into the second grade we were joined by a smiling face from Texas, Pat Harris. We left the second grade so quickly we took Mrs. Whitney along with us.

We fired through the third grade so quickly that they hired a new teacher, Mrs. Fuller, to slow us down.

In the fourth grade we were joined by OnaLee Flangan.

At the start of our fifth year in school our teacher, Miss Edwards, had three paddles made, because after all we were upstairs now, and well—one paddle wasn't enough.

Our sixth year rolled around bright and early in September at which time a new face was observed, Bob Moss.

When we became seventh graders the drugstore had to order a new supply of headache powder for Miss Wise. There was also a severe shortage of paper that year. Lodi School was consuming so much for detention hall slips.

In the eighth grade we enjoyed the luxury of breaking in the new seventh graders to high school life. Mrs. Grimm was our advisor. Doris Pope and Kay Pickering joined our ranks this year.

Finally the day arrived when we became Freshmen. This year Max Emons, Russell Gordon, Pat Laidley, Marlene Kindig, Harold Weitzel, and Ethelmaye Schaefer joined our class to help make it miserable for the teachers—ask Mr. Dowler, our home room teacher. At that time we had one of the largest classes in high school—over forty.

In our Sophomore year we had the former Miss Jones who guided us to victory in two float contests. Phyllis Gynn joined our ranks this year.

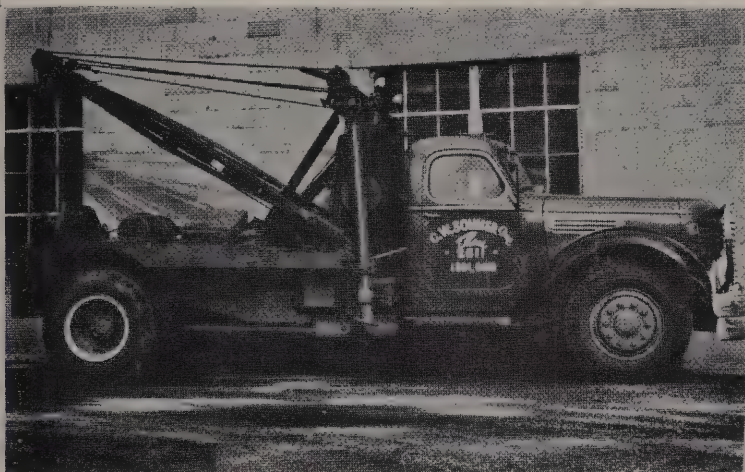

Our Junior year was filled with many activities including the refreshment concessions at athletic events and our class play, "Who's Batty Now?" Our play was directed by Mrs. Eastman. Our class advisor was Mr. Egger. The biggest event of the year was our Junior-Senior Banquet, which was held at the Wooster Country Club on May sixth.

Then at last September 1950 rolled around and we ruled the roost. Advising our activities was Miss Sechrist. Our Senior Class Play, "Seventeen Is Terrific," drew one of the largest crowds ever to attend a play in Lodi. The highlight of the year was our trip to Washington, D. C. on May sixteenth to May twentieth.

The climax of our school life came on May twenty-fifth when our commencement exercises were held.

Class Prophecy

Don't change that dial! Listen to Schaefer, your National Dog Breeder, on the air. But first a word from our sponsor — "Weitzels Grocery Store." Anything that grows can be bought in the efficient store on Route 42 Southeast of Medina.

As my listeners all know, each year I take a trip back to my home town and bring you news of the old gang, and what has been developing through the years.

Enroute to Lodi I stopped off for a couple of short ones and decided to stay for the floor show when I noticed a poster spotlighting, Flanagan, "Queen of the Follies," and as a special attraction, Phyllis, "World Famous Bubble Dancer." Also on another poster I noticed the name of a famous playboy, Russell Gordon, and his nurse friend, Doris Ginter. It has been said she travels with Russ because he is always getting romantic fever. As I looked around me, I noticed Doc Rice, world-famous pitcher for the Indians. Wonder what brings him here?

The next morning I got off to an early start, and the first place I passed was the estate of Phil and Marlene. I see they are building an addition on the east side of their house. As I proceeded down the road I came to a little trailer with a picket fence around it, and out in back I saw Pat hanging out clothes. She makes an adorable housewife.

My, what is that cloud of dust I see over there in the field? It is "Hot Rod Windy," practicing for the great Hot Rod race to be held in Lodi next week. Gosh! We almost got clipped by that semi, as it flew passed I noticed the name, "Emmons Trucking Company." Max must be progressing.

Finally we come to the peaceful town of Lodi. There goes the ambulance with "Doc" Harris in the front seat.

There is a large crowd around the square here to welcome President Mathys and his secretary, Doris Pope. It has been said that the president has good knee action. I wonder if we know any of the folks here to welcome the president. Over there I see Senator Hartzell; he is talking to Anita Indoe and Don Cash. Anita is Home Economics teacher at Lodi and Don is Coach and History teacher.

I wonder how Jim Crum is making out. The last time I heard from him there wasn't a tree he didn't know personally. Oh! I forget to tell you he was a forestry man.

Did you know June Stanley was chosen "Queen of the Rose Bowl?" As her prize she received free roses and a subscription to the spring flower catalog.

As we make our way through the crowd we see Bob Moss. We hear he has a farm on the outskirts of Lodi. Over there we see Kay and her three children talking to Bernard Whitmore who is our great inventor. He developed a formula for preventing ice cream from melting before you get it home.

I guess that is the end of our gang all except Sara Lawton. On a date in the future I will tell you more about her experiences in college. She is the only girl ever to attend "Case Institute of Technology."

So until this time next year I remain your one and only "National Dog Breeder."

The Last Will and Testament of The Class of 1951

We, the Senior Class of 1951, being in our best (?) mental condition, do solemnly swear this to be our last will and testament. We, the party of the first part, do bequeath the following persons and real property, to the parties below.

SECTION I

- ARTICLE I      To Mr. Wood, our sincere thanks for putting up with us after lunch. I am sure that we would rather have been napping.
- ARTICLE II     To Mr. Skurvid, we are truly sorry we won't see your smiling face that greets us when we're late, makes us feel guilty when we're absent and warm when he tells a joke.
- ARTICLE III    To Mary Anderson, we will leave a remedy for the headaches she acquired. We'll just leave. That should solve all problems.
- ARTICLE IV    To Miss Sechrist, we know that we have been the most orderly bunch of Seniors she has ever had the misfortune of directing. So she won't need any headache powder.
- ARTICLE V     To Mrs. Schafer, we leave a Coleman Lantern to light her typing room, sick looking shorthand books, and the memory of smart Business Law and Business Correspondence students.
- ARTICLE VI    To Mrs. Hastings, we leave the thought—BIGGER MEALS.
- ARTICLE VII   To Coach McCoy, we leave thanks for team rating and may we have much more of the same in years to come.
- ARTICLE VIII   To Mrs. Snell, we leave the library to future bookworms.
- ARTICLE IX    To Mr. Baker, we leave to you happiness and may all your future troubles be little ones.
- ARTICLE X     To Mr. Weagraff, we leave brilliant students and marked text books.
- ARTICLE XI    To Mrs. Eastman, we leave the memory of learned and well spoken speech students.
- ARTICLE XII   To Mr. Wright, we hope you will continue to build up the farm shop in the years to come.
- ARTICLE XIII   To the Junior Class we leave our ability to get along with all the teachers; we feel that you may need this.
- ARTICLE XIV   To the Sophomore Class, we leave our ability to make money (legally) and get along with each other.
- ARTICLE XV    To the Freshman Class we leave our experiences in dodging assignments and teachers.

SECTION II

- ARTICLE I Don Cash leaves his football ability to Matthew Davis in the hope that he will some day be a star.
- ARTICLE II Jim Crum leaves his playboy ways to Don Moss.
- ARTICLE III Max Emmons leaves his welding techniques to Jim Yoxtheimer so that he can fill up the holes in his jalopy.
- ARTICLE IV OnaLee Flanagan leaves her ability to acquire a Buick in such a short time to anyone with the same ability.
- ARTICLE V Doddy Ginter leaves her cooking ability to Mary Chapman.
- ARTICLE VI Russell Gordon leaves his wavy hair to Jack Gossard.
- ARTICLE VII Phyllis Gynn leaves her jovial manner to Donna McGarvey.
- ARTICLE VIII Patsy Harris wills her twinkling eyes to Barbara Brewster.
- ARTICLE IX Gordon Hartzell leaves his ability to get on the Honor Society to anyone who would like the position.
- ARTICLE X Anita Indoe wills her ability to be sweet at all times to Dora Zimmerman.
- ARTICLE XI Marlene Kindig wills her ability to get around Mrs. Schafer about putting off tests and time writings in typing to anyone who thinks he can do the same.
- ARTICLE XII Windy Klinec leaves his Hot Rod to anyone with nerve enough to risk driving it.
- ARTICLE XIII Pat Laidley wills her ability to sneak out of classes and get down in the lunch line first to Jeanette White.
- ARTICLE XIV Gus Mathys wills his innocent look to John Schall and hopes he can make some good use of it.
- ARTICLE XV Bob Moss leaves his quiet manner to Don Sanford.
- ARTICLE XVI Kay Pickering leaves all the old scrap papers in the typing desks to next year's victims.
- ARTICLE XVII Doris Pope leaves her ability to type Mrs. Schafer's love letters to anyone interested.
- ARTICLE XVIII Frank Rice leaves his unfinished arguments with Mr. Weagraff to Chick Ivie and hopes Chick will finish some of them.
- ARTICLE XIX Ethelmaye Schaefer leaves her auburn hair to Fairy Johnson.
- ARTICLE XX June Stanley leaves her headaches at making play programs to the Junior Class.
- ARTICLE XXI Harold Weitzel wills his ability with women to Millard Sharp.
- ARTICLE XXII Bernard Whitmore leaves money to buy a loud bell for the government class so that they can wake up in time to get to their next class.
- ARTICLE XXIII Sara Lawton wills her ability to fascinate the under classmen to Joan Warner.

Honor Society

Left to Right:

Jeanette White, Anita Indoe, Gordon Hartzell, Mrs. Eastman, Barbara Packard, Sara Lawton.

The Lodi chapter of the National Honor Society of Secondary Schools was initiated in 1942. The purpose of the organization is to recognize students who are outstanding in scholarship, character, leadership, and service. Only a specified percentage, according to national standards, of the upper three classes may be chosen. The Honor Society member is chosen by the faculty. He must maintain an average grade of "B" in all subjects, have a pleasing personality, and have attended Lodi High School one year previous to initiation.

The chief project of the year is the sponsoring of Homecoming, which includes the coronation of the Queen and a dance following the game.

Barbara Brainard, Irene Farnsworth, Queen June Stanley, Anita Indoe, Martha Stuckey.

The 1950 Homecoming was held on the night of October 13 when Lodi was host to Hinckley. During half time ceremonies the Queen (escorted by her court) marched across the field to the music of the marching band. Then under the new lights of Richmond Field, Miss June Stanley was crowned the 1950 Homecoming Queen. Miss Laura Cash, the 1949 Homecoming Queen, did the crowning. A dance was held in the American Legion Hall later in the evening with the queen and her court reigning.
